FAMILIES FLEE FLOOD WATERS—This was the scene in Kissimmee, Fla., where 200 families were forced to flee their homes after a tropical storm dumped up to 15 inches of rain on central Florida. The storm left two dead in the state, flooded four towns and caused considerable crop damage. (NEA Telephoto)

Fire Chief Asks That Calls on Alarms Stop

Too many telephone calls after fire alarms has been hampering the efficiency of fire department operations, Fire Chief James M. Brett said today, and he asked public cooperation in stopping the practice.

No calls, unless they are for an emergency or another fire, should be made until 10 minutes after an alarm has been sounded, the chief said, and those calling will get no reply unless they give their names.

West Athens Inn Razed by Fire

An historic Greene county landmark, the old Black Horse Inn on Route 9W at West Athens, was completely destroyed by fire early today.

Damage had not been estimated and the cause was undetermined, according to Deputy Ebenezer Jeune of the Greene county sheriff's office.

The inn, which was built in 1871, had been unoccupied for some time, he said.

Deputy Jeune said the fire was discovered by a passing truck driver at 5:15 a. m., and the West Athens Lime Street Fire Department, which responded to the alarm, was unable to save the inn but protected several buildings located nearby.

He said the cause of the fire, which completely destroyed the inn, had not been determined and the damage was unestimated.

Waters Near Taj Mahal

New Delhi, India, Oct. 19 (AP)—Flood waters of the Jumna river swirled close to India's famed Taj Mahal today. The Taj Mahal sits fairly high on the banks with a wall around it, and Indian government officials in New Delhi said the river poses no danger to it. But all main roads leading to the white monument at Agra, 100 miles south of here, were under several feet of water blocking thousands of persons planning to visit it tonight. This is October full moon night which usually draws the biggest crowd of the year to the 300-year-old mausoleum built by Shah Jehan for his queen. Visitors are attracted because this full moon throws a unique blue tint on the structure.

Man Without $3.45 Held For Gas Station Murder

Hudson, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—A customer who, police say, was unable to pay for $3.45 worth of gasoline, is charged with killing a service station operator who had threatened to call police.

Myron Pearlman, 24, of Brooklyn, charged with second-degree murder in the shooting of Paul Bernsen, 56, pleaded innocent and waived examination at arraignment last night before Peace Justice Gustav A. Brenke in the town of Livingston.

State Trooper Leonard J. Addis said Bernsen staggered from the station near the north end of the Taconic State Parkway yesterday as Addis drove in on routine patrol.

Addis said that Bernsen, a retired New York city policeman, gasped "Lennie, get that guy. He just shot me," and fell to the ground.

The trooper said he then arrested Pearlman, who was standing by a side door of the station.

Sgt. Frank Appleton of the State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation, said Pearlman claimed he could not pay for $3.45 worth of gasoline and took a rifle from the back seat of his car to offer it as collateral, after Bernsen had threatened to call police. Pearlman told police he did not intend to shoot.

Troopers said Pearlman walked toward the station and when Bernsen saw him coming with the gun Bernsen ran out a side door of the station.

Pearlman was quoted as saying that when he saw Bernsen

Gas Depot Explosion Fatal to 6 Almost a Block Covered by Fire

Herrin, Ill., Oct. 19 (AP)—A bottled gas depot was raked by explosions and fires Thursday that caused six deaths and injuries to seven others.

A mother, her 3-year-old son and two other children perished in the blasts and two of the injured died today.

The dead were:
Fred Kerley, 62.
Charlotte Jarvis, 11.
Robert Lee Keller, 5.
Oscar Williams, 38.
Mrs. Violet Williams, 33; his wife.

Freddie Williams, 3, their son.

Five Homes Burn

The explosion yesterday spread flames over an area nearly a block from the depot. Five homes were destroyed. Witnesses reported four or five separate explosions.

Of the injured, doctors at Herrin Hospital said, "there are a lot we won't be able to do anything for."

Policeman Walter Lowe said six of the victims were in a yard near the depot when the first blast occurred. The flash fire covered them with flames, Lowe said. Others injured were believed to have been in their homes.

Leak Is Blamed

The explosion occurred at the depot on the west side of this southern Illinois town of 10,000 from which cooking gas is distributed in small tanks to customers in Herrin and rural areas.

Officers Make Note Of Object in Sky

No further traces or additional information on appearance of a bright object in the sky near the city early this morning were reported later today.

Officers Gilbert Gray and Frank Monte notified police headquarters at 1:03 a. m., of the appearance of what looked like a silver object "with white streamers" trailing. The object "turned red" some distance above the horizon, they said, and appeared to disappear in the East Kingston area.

A check was made with civil defense and the report was relayed to the sheriff's office. Nothing was turned up to indicate a falling object in the area, but civil defense indicated that a plane had been observed going southward in a path of travel east of the city. Observers report, however, that meteors often spend themselves with a trail of red light.

2 Firms Accused Of False Claims On Cooking Ware

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Reynolds Metals Co., of Richmond, Va., and one of its mid-western distributors were accused by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) today of misrepresenting the advantages of cooking with Reynolds-manufactured "lifetime stainless steelware."

The FTC charged Reynolds with making "false and deceptive claims" in national advertising and in material furnished its dealers.

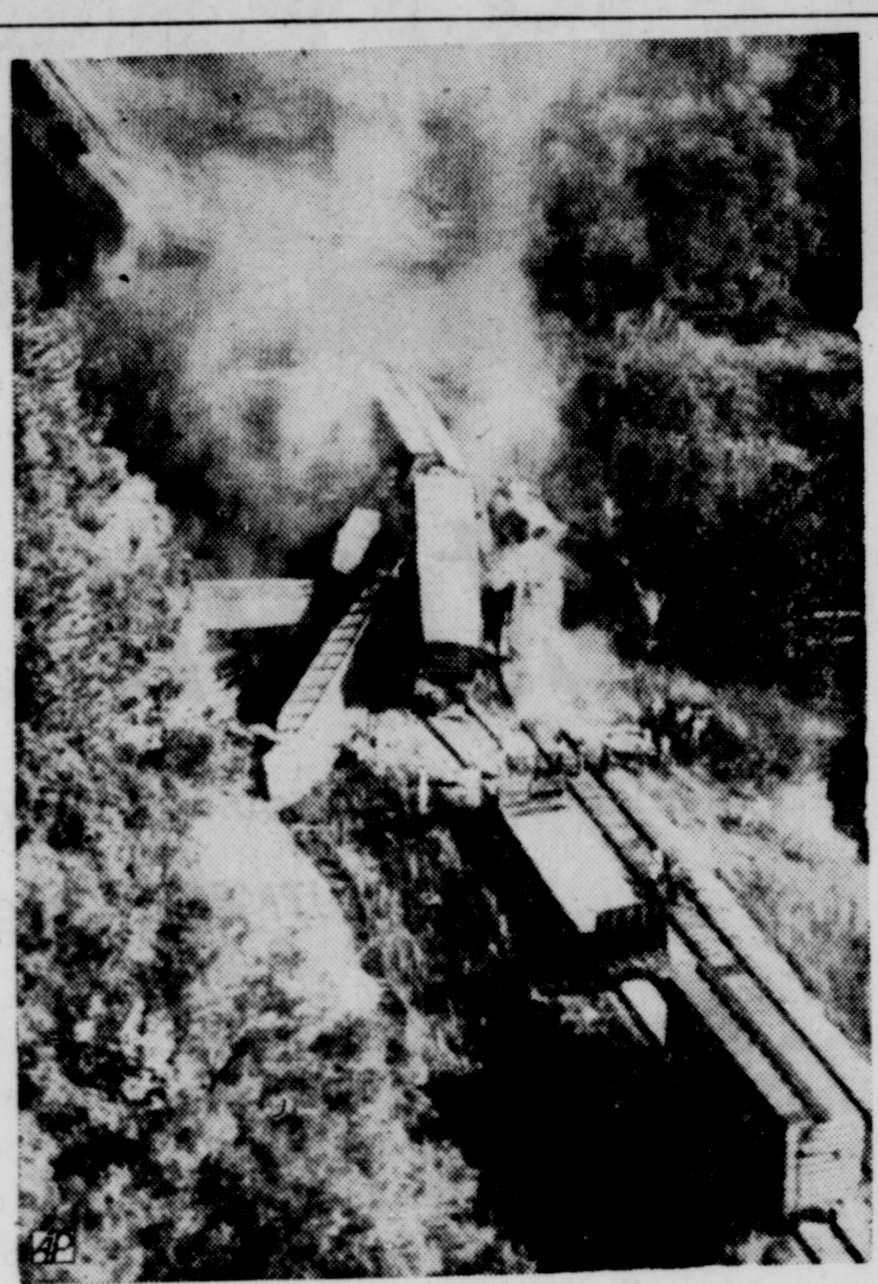

The distributor, Lifetime Sales Inc., of Milwaukee, was accused of making erroneous claims in sales talks by its own agents. The firm has exclusive selling rights in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Northern Illinois and Eastern Nebraska.

Both companies were charged with violation of the FTC Act which forbids misrepresentation in advertising. Reynolds, the complaint alleged, claimed that its "waterless" method of cooking would prevent disease and ill health while the use of other utensils or methods would cause poor health because of a loss of vital food elements.

Actually, the complaint alleged, there is some loss of food elements in any utensil or cooking method but the maximum loss is "insignificant from a nutritional standpoint." Persons would not incur diseases or ill health because of this loss, FTC said.

The complaint said Lifetime

Order Is Served On Early Closing

An order requiring establishments serving alcoholic beverages to close at 1 a. m. was served shortly before noon today by the Attorney General's office.

The order, served on Attorney Arthur B. Ewig, representing the tavern and restaurant proprietors, is returnable before Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth in his chambers at the Court House Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 9 a. m.

If the order is signed by Judge Elsworth on Tuesday morning the new 1 a. m. curfew will become effective immediately and taverns and restaurants could be required to close at 1 a. m., Wednesday, Oct. 24.

Only 22 Property Owners File for Review by Court

Only 22 local property owners have filed for court review of assessments after the city's reappraisal program, Mayor Frederick H. Stang said today.

The reassessment, completed in the summer, involved nearly 9,000 properties and approximately 900 grievances were filed. Adjustments were made on some 600 of them.

The 22, still seeking adjustments, have filed through counsel in a procedure known as certiorari and it will be up to the Supreme Court to appoint a referee for review of the claims. Claimants must show, through expert testimony, that they are entitled to the adjustments which they seek.

Records of similar reappraisal programs, some of them in cities smaller than Kingston have resulted in certiorari proceedings numbering in the hundreds.

The reappraisal project, which began early this year by the Cole-Layer-Trumble Co., of Toledo, Ohio, was completed in the summer. Formal grievances were filed in September and the list of adjustments was published in The Freeman Tuesday.

Boy Drowns as Mother Is Held on Father's Charge

John Wesley Hall, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hall of Poughkeepsie, drowned in a small mountain lake on the Broglie premises west of West Park Thursday. His four-year-old brother, Raymond, apparently also fell in the lake but managed to scramble out.

The two boys had been left at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Newbury at West Park by the father after the mother, Marietta Hall, 33, formerly of Hillsdale, had been arrested in Dutchess county and held in jail on a charge of endangering the health of a minor.

Both Newbury and Hall, 31, are employed by the National Stainless Cookware Company of Port Ewen, where Hall is district manager. The Halls formerly resided in Rochester.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle, summoned by Highland state police, gave the cause of death as asphyxiation by drowning. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

State police at Highland were notified at 12:45 o'clock Thursday by Mrs. Newbury of the drowning and after examining the boy pronounced him dead from drowning. Coroner McCardle was then summoned and took charge of the body.

Child Tells Story

The incident began last Saturday night when it is alleged Mrs. Hall, left John Wesley, 2, his brother Raymond, 4, and Joseph Hall, 8, a son of Mrs. Hall by a prior marriage, in their trailer home in Poughkeepsie while she and Robert Ederkin, 27, of Poughkeepsie went out, leaving the three children in charge of a 12-year-old baby sitter.

When Hall returned home later from a business trip, police report, the step-son Joseph, told a story of the three having been left in the trailer Saturday night in charge of the 12-year-old baby sitter. He said when Ederkin and Mrs. Hall returned home, they had given beer to the baby sitter and caused her to remain overnight in the Hall home.

Following a family quarrel, Mrs. Hall was charged with endangering the health of a minor and held under $500 bail in the Dutchess county jail. Ederkin was also charged with the same offense and held in $1,000 bail. Hall swore out the warrant for their arrest.

The two small boys were taken

Calls Raids On Border Act of War Military Drive Seen in Threat

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Jordan warned today it will take matters in its own hands unless the UN Security Council can stop alleged Israeli aggression immediately.

Calling for the strongest UN penalties short of military action, Jordan's ambassador, Abdul Monem Rifa'i, said:

"If the council doesn't take action to stop the Israeli aggression right away, then my country will have to seek other methods by which it could insure the safety of our borders."

Others May Join Forces

Rifa'i did not elaborate except to say that "such a development, if it happens, will extend beyond our present local arrangements." This appeared to be a threat of large-scale military action, perhaps, with the aid of other Arab forces.

Jordan representative told the council that Israel's recent activities could not be described as border incidents.

"It is war," he continued, "except that it lacks the rules of war, the bravery of war and the honor and morals of war."

Says Raids Unprovoked

Rifa'i said the whole trouble stemmed from an aggressive Israeli policy and that the border incidents "were premeditated and unprovoked."

"Israel," he said, "is destroying the very foundations of the general armistice agreement." Rifa'i did not spell out what sort of penalties he wanted the council to invoke. He urged action under article 41 of the UN charter which provides for the severance of diplomatic relations, economic restrictions and possible rupture of all outside communications.

105 Met Death

Rifa'i was the first speaker as the council opened its debate on Jordan and Israeli complaints growing out of the recent incidents which were reported fatal to 105 persons.

The Jordanian representative said the cease-fire obtained by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold last spring "has become valueless since the Israeli government has officially announced its policy of launching military attacks against Jordan."

In appealing for UN penalties against Israel, he said:

Other Peace at Stake

"It is for the sake of maintaining peace and order in the Palestine area, and consequently in the whole of the Middle East and perhaps further afield, that the Security Council should apply these sanctions against Israel for putting an end to its aggression in Palestine."

"It is also for safeguarding the prestige and authority of the Security Council which were challenged by Israel several times, that these effective measures should be taken."

Israel's acting UN delegate,

Japan, Reds Sign Pact

Moscow, Oct. 18 (AP)—Japan and the Soviet Union today signed a declaration ending the 11-year state of war between the two nations. Japanese Premier Ichiro Hatoyama and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin signed the end-of-war declaration and a trade protocol after more than 16 months of off-and-on negotiations. Practically the entire presidency of the Soviet government and its ruling Communist party were ranged behind them in the klieg-light conference room of the grand Kremlin palace as they attached their signatures.

Ammunition Blast Near Oslo Today Kills Four Norwegians

Oslo, Norway, Oct. 19 (AP)—At least four persons perished and a dozen were hurt in an explosion today at an A-Bomb-proof government ammunition works dug into the mountains 65 miles north of Oslo.

A spokesman for the Raufoss Works said four bodies had been recovered three hours after the blast occurred. In a hall where normally about 100 persons work, there was no immediate word as to the cause of the explosion.

The Raufoss Works, owned by the Norwegian government, makes ammunition and high explosives, including ammunition for NATO forces.

Immediately after the explosion, the area around Raufoss was blocked to civilian traffic. Civilian defense units from Oslo were dispatched and all available police forces were called in for emergency service.

Cold, Deep Snows Predicted For Northeast Next 10 Years

University Park, Pa., Oct. 19—Ten chilling years, "with a rapid return to the snows that grandpa recalls," were predicted by Prof. C. L. Hosler of the Department of Meteorology, College of Mineral Industries, Pennsylvania State University.

Mixing science and, admittedly, a little guesswork, Prof. Hosler took issue with the contention that trends over the past half-century indicate that the Northeastern United States is getting warmer.

"This was based on the observation that it was, in fact, warmer during the last 50 years than during the preceding 50 years," he told an Anthracite conference here.

"There are indications now, however, that the trend has ceased and that we may return to colder weather. Historically, these warm and cool periods have been roughly of 100 years duration and the temperature changes have been of about the same magnitude.

TV Repairman Is Arrested; Linked With Tube Racket

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—A Bronx TV repairman has been arrested and linked with an alleged million dollar ring selling defective electronic tubes which were reprocessed and represented as new.

The repairman, Stanley Seltzer, 27, was arrested yesterday at his shop after a Bronx grand jury returned an 18-count indictment against him.

Authorities said the General Electric Co. has been losing an estimated million dollars yearly as result of the tube racket, while dealers and TV set owners also were bilked.

Altered Tube Code
Bronx Dist. Atty. Daniel V. Sullivan said Seltzer obtained tubes that had failed in service, altered the code to indicate they still were covered by a factory warranty, then sold them as new tubes at huge discounts.

Some dealers, it was said, used an electric process to "restore" the tubes and enable them to function properly for a short time. Others are believed to have returned the tubes to the factory—General Electric—for refunds.

Said Sullivan: "Thousands of television owners have been fleeced by this racket throughout the country."

Checked With GE

Sullivan said the case against

Seltzer started when an unidentified TV dealer, suspicious of big discounts offered him, got in touch with General Electric. The company contacted the district attorney's office and an investigation followed.

Police said they were present in a shop when Seltzer was paid $400 for 1,000 tubes. Upon examination, they said, the tubes were found to be defective and bearing altered trade marks and code numbers.

Thirty thousand tubes in Seltzer's shop were confiscated.

The indictment against Seltzer charges him with two counts of felony and 16 misdemeanor counts.

Acquit Ex-Port Agent

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP)—Ray White, a former port agent for the Seafarers International Union (SIU), has been acquitted of a charge he conspired to murder a rival in an election to a lucrative union post.

A Bergen county jury late last night found the 38-year-old Tampa, Fla., man innocent after a four-day trial. White was accused of hiring a triggerman to slay Paul Hall in December 1954 at Hall's home in nearby Montvale. He and Hall at the time were running for the $28,000-a-year job of secretary-treasurer of the SIU's Atlantic and Gulf district.

Troops Farther South
Rangoon, Burma, Oct. 19—Chinese Communist troops from Tibet who entered Burma through the nation's northernmost mountain passes today were reported to have moved farther south. The report to the English-language newspaper Nation the Red troops had established one camp only nine days' march from the north Burma center of Putao (Fort Hertz).

The report indicated the Reds were trying to build up a basis for demanding the area—often in dispute—for China. The Nation's correspondent at Nongmang, a local administrative center northeast of Putao and only a few miles from the Red troops' reported position, said the invading soldiers were busily taking a census of Tibetan inhabitants of the area.

Javits Stays, Misses TV

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—New York State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, missed a television show on which he was to appear last night rather than walk out while Vice President Nixon was speaking at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

"There were 50 reporters there just waiting for me to walk out while Mr. Nixon was talking," Javits explained when he finally reached the WABD television studios, a mile from the hotel, too late to appear on the telecast. Interviewer Mike Wallace had invited Javits to appear on his "Night Beat" program.

ONE STEP AT LEAST

The U.N.-approved agreement among Britain, France and Egypt on six principles affecting management of the Suez Canal hardly qualifies as a settlement of the issue. But at least it indicates, as nothing has done before, the desire of the principals to negotiate a solution.

What the British and French have wanted, of course, is an international board to control Suez, or, failing that, an "advisory group" with the power to apply sanctions against Egypt when necessary to assure proper management.

The "six principles" do not give them that. The broadest assurance they provide is that the "operation of the canal shall be insulated from the politics of any country."

Translated, this can mean, at most, Egypt's promise that its canal organization will be kept divorced from the whims exercised by President Nasser as he pursues Middle Eastern and world politics. But, we must note, control of Suez would at all times be fundamentally Egyptian.

Egypt would, however, maintain the canal free and open to all comers without discrimination (Israel presumably excepted). It would negotiate with canal users the manner of fixing tolls, and arrange that a fair share of dues collected be allotted to the canal's vital future development. And it would accept arbitration of all unresolved matters between itself and the old Suez Canal company.

These principles represent hopeful statements regarding the management of the waterway. But they are merely a start on the road of negotiations.

At the moment, there is no clear indication how the principles will get together for the next stage of discussions. If a solution is to be had within the framework set by the U.N., the momentum gained should not be lost.

What will count henceforth with the British, French and other canal users will be the concrete proposals devised for turning the six principles into a real working formula.

The principles, however hopeful, remain just the verbal assurances of an untrustworthy politician until they are somehow solidified in documents bearing international sanction. What the users can fairly demand, in other words, is something stronger than Nasser's word that the canal will be properly and justly operated.

Yet it is significant that under the U.N.'s wing the chief disputants over Suez have at last sat down around a table in truly conciliatory mood, seemingly bent on seeking real answers rather than simply reasserting old arguments.

The "six principles" agreement perhaps signals the end of the period of greatest war peril over Suez. The free world clearly wants the contending parties to push earnestly ahead toward peaceful settlement.

YOUTH NEEDS SPORTS

A poll of youth taken throughout the country shows that their interest in competitive sports tends to be on the increase as spectators but not as participants. Apparently many of them get adequate satisfaction from being in the audience at sports events or seeing them on television.

This is an unfavorable trend, as far as the moral and physical development of youth is concerned. It is serious enough to justify the attention of sociologists interested in providing the best possible training for the country's future adults. They strongly urge using every possible means of getting juveniles to become sports competitors.

It does not require an expert in sociology to know that this is based on good sense and sound reasoning. What over activity could better prepare young people, especially boys, for the more serious competition they must face in later life? And while on the subject, remember that participation in competitive sports is a deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

JAPAN'S POPULATION

The population of the world is increasing by leaps and bounds despite wars, famines, droughts, epidemics and the insane politics of so-called statesmen. Apparently the moon is bright and boys meet girls despite the misfortunes of our times. Japan, which is only 20 per cent arable, has announced that it now has a population of more than 90,000,000 and has reached a density of 243 persons per square kilometer, which is the third densest in all this world. This constantly increasing population in a land which is short of foodstuffs and raw materials raises a serious political problem for Asia and for the world.

In the 1920's, when Japan's population was in the 60,000,000's, the hope of the Japanese was that they could either expand on to the mainland of Asia, preferably in Manchuria, or settle in what then were called the South Sea Islands. It was principally the United States that kept Japan from conquering China only to open the way for Soviet Russia to take every part of Asia that Japan coveted.

In her effort to solve this population problem and to find readier access to food and raw materials, Japan, by 1931, became involved in a series of wars with China and expansionist efforts in Asia ended in disastrous defeat and the reduction of Japan from the primary nation of Asia to an unfortunate ward of General Douglas MacArthur and now is uncertain as to the course to follow.

Nevertheless, the population of Japan increases and the Japanese have no place to go. It is now assumed that by 1970, the Japanese population will reach 100,000,000. Realistically, Japan is committing suicide by having a population beyond its capacity to feed them or to produce raw materials for her industries. If Japan cannot export manufactured goods, Japan cannot import foodstuffs. If Japan has inadequate food supplies, there will be food riots and possibly a revolution.

Other countries have faced this problem. Italy has, in recent years, been able to export population to the United States, the Argentine, North Africa and Southern France, as Germany did in the earlier years of the 19th century to the United States. The Japanese have encountered resistance in the United States and in most Latin American countries on racial grounds. Such resistance produced the California Land Laws and the incarceration of American-born citizens of Japanese descent in concentration camps during World War II—as disgraceful an act as this country has ever been guilty of. There is no indication that such racial resistance has lessened in recent years sufficiently to make large scale emigration possible.

The real danger in this situation is that the Japanese will be forced by historic and geographic logic to join the Soviet bloc of Asiatic countries. In this way, Korea, Manchuria and Mongolia will again be opened to the Japanese who will not only have easy access to foodstuffs and raw materials, but also to under-populated areas to which to send their surplus people as well as their manufactured goods. Manchuria produces wheat and soy beans which the Japanese require.

While such a relationship could relieve the immediate population pressure, it would undoubtedly change Japan's social system and ultimately imperil Japan's independence. For obviously, in time, much of the Japanese population, on the mainland, would be absorbed by the Chinese who set up no racial resistance except as regards Europeans and even that form of resistance has been weakening over the years because it was more political than emotional. The Chinese Communists have made marked advances toward the Japanese and when a Russo-Japanese treaty is signed, such advances will become sharper and more profitable to Japan.

Here is a complex of problems the development of which is upon us. It is not a situation that can be solved by sending hundreds of millions of dollars to Japan, because such an import of dollars only produces an inflation and there is apparently some relationship between inflated economies and inflated families. What Japan needs is easy access to food and raw materials and a place for its surplus population. Dollars will not help that. The immediate necessity is productive land and there is no more of that in Japan than is being utilized to the fullest. And it is not enough and with areas taken from Japan which that country had held since 1895, it is tough going.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

OVARIAN CYSTS

Ovarian cysts (sacs containing fluid) are extremely common and, as a matter of fact, a small cyst is normally produced each month in the formation of a mature egg. These normally disappear soon after the egg is discharged from the ovary. However, on occasion, they do persist and may attain such a large size (as large even as a watermelon) that they must be removed surgically. We are told in "Understanding Surgery" that the decision to operate will depend upon these factors:

1. A cyst smaller than two inches in diameter may be watched periodically. If it remains stationary in size, operation may be postponed.
2. A cyst larger than two inches in diameter which does not shrink in size should be removed.

3. An ovary which enlarges rapidly, whether it feels cystic or solid should be operated upon.
The surgeon also considers (1) the nature of the disorder requiring surgery; (2) the likelihood of an ovarian cyst tumor being cancerous (malignant) he will likely remove all adjacent structures as well. (2) The younger the patient is, the harder he will try to preserve the structures and remove as little as possible. In women over 40 there is no point preserving a doubtful ovary as it will soon cease to function when menopause occurs. (3) The condition of the other ovary—if the other ovary is normal, the surgeon will hesitate less to remove the diseased one because, as we know, one ovary can carry on all the functions required.

Hemorrhage or bleeding into one of these cysts or hemorrhage into the abdomen from one of these cysts which has ruptured will give rise to acute symptoms such as pain in the lower abdomen, tenderness on pressure, and rise in temperature. If the symptoms do not subside within a day or two, surgery is indicated.
The ovary is often the site of a tumor with cyst formation. Some of these undergo malignant changes if untreated for prolonged periods of time. Among these are the dermoid cysts which are interesting in that they often contain teeth and hair. If any of these cystic tumors show any suspicion of cancerous change it is wise to remove both ovaries because of the great tendency of this type of cancer to affect both ovaries.
About 20 to 30 per cent of cystic tumors involve both ovaries. In young women it is sometimes permissible to remove one ovary completely but to remove the cyst only from the other. This will permit normal menstruation. It must be emphasized, however, that the life of the patient must never be put in danger by failing to operate where such operation is indicated.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The half-truth political technique is going great guns here this year. Examples pile up daily as the campaign progresses.

Thus Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was technically correct when he broadcast that, "After the Republicans took over in Washington, not one dime went to the rotten Argentine dictator."

But what the governor did not mention was that a 60-million-dollar loan for a few Argentine steel mills—on which negotiations were begun in the Truman administration—was approved in March, 1955, by the Eisenhower administration. This was six months before Peron was kicked out. So the full record makes both parties culpable for coddling Peron.

Similarly, President Eisenhower was literally accurate, as far as he went, in saying at Lexington that the Democrats voted against his school aid bill 215 to 9 while Republicans voted for it 149 to 47.

This was not, however, on a vote for final passage of the Republican bill. It was on a motion to recommit the Democratic school aid bill and substitute the GOP bill for it.

On final passage of the Democratic school aid bill, as Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn pointed out, his party voted for the bill 119 to 105 while the Republicans killed it 119 to 75.

TAKING AN EXAMPLE from the other side of the fence, Adlai Stevenson is correct as far as he goes in saying that Democratic votes in both houses of Congress saved President Eisenhower's recommendation for continuing the reciprocal trade agreements program.

But what Stevenson conveniently overlooks is that the Democratic-controlled Congress refused to act on President Eisenhower's recommendation for authorization of the Organization for Trade Cooperation—OTC—to administer the program.

Numerous other examples of half-truths by both parties are being made in this campaign on such subjects as cost of living, inflation, farm policy, National Labor Relations Board—and even peace.

Republican and Democratic parties now have their "Truth Squads" and "Lie Detectors" operating to check up on each other. But both are being demonstrated as too prejudiced to be effective.

What seems to be needed, in the opinion of objective independents, is some kind of a refined Geiger counter which could be used by a half-truth squad to detect half-lies and enlarge them to the whole truth.

ON ANOTHER political action front, we have the old trick of promising the voters more than they're going to get.

Thus, Stevenson is now holding out hopes for full income to the older citizens after their retirement. And Vice President Nixon offers everybody a four-day week.

All such promises have long been classified as "pie in the sky." Red propagandists have been promising their people pie in the sky for years. Look what it has got them and where they are now.

The tradition of American political folklore is that the exaggerations of candidates for public office should not be taken seriously. They should be laughed off and soon forgotten.

But if all American politicians are now to behave in the manner of ex-President Harry S. Truman and ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen—saying one thing today and the exact opposite tomorrow and get away with it, then something may be happening to the national political character.

The question it raises is whether this example is anything to hold up for the world to see.

Moscow Seen Glad to Back Stevenson's H-Bomb Stand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 19 — The government of Communist Russia has backed up Adlai Stevenson's proposal to halt H-bomb tests. Moscow likes the idea because it would mean that no guarantees or system of inspection would be required to see that Soviet Russia kept her word.

In an unprecedented intrusion into an American political campaign Arkady A. Sobolev, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, said, according to an Associated Press dispatch from New York city, that Russia is willing to agree to halt the tests of all nuclear weapons "without conditions."

In Direct Opposite
This is directly opposite to what the British government, the United States government and the Pope have advocated—namely, that the stoppage of tests should be part of a general agreement on disarmament.

But since Adlai Stevenson has come up with the argument that H-bomb tests abroad can be detected and hence, as he sees it, there isn't any need for advance agreement on inspection. Moscow is quick to take advantage of the opinion that the Democratic nominee has given the Kremlin.

Mr. Stevenson has no power today to negotiate with any foreign government in behalf of the United States. But the Communist government sees an advantage in publicly discussing his proposals because it helps the Kremlin in its negotiations and it assists Moscow's worldwide propaganda against America.

Previous Position
The United States government, under the Eisenhower administration—and, indeed, under the Truman administration—has taken the position that disarmament is a package affair, and that to withhold the use or testing of certain weapons without limitation or regulation of the use of other weapons is impractical and unrealistic.

The Soviet government, on the other hand, first proposed two years ago to the United Nations that banning nuclear tests should be part of a disarmament agreement, but has since abandoned the idea in favor of a demand that nuclear tests be stopped without reference to any other phase of the disarmament program.

The Stevenson proposal, as he now explains it, is, therefore, what Soviet Russia really wants. And Mr. Sobolev says that, if the tests of the big bomb are stopped, Russia believes "this might be the first step toward a system of disarmament and eventual prohibition of the nuclear weapons."

No Way to Check
There is, of course, no way of being assured that Soviet Russia would keep her agreement unless there was an inspection arrangement to make it foolproof. Scientists differ as to whether H-bomb explosions can be detected. But Soviet Russia's position, nevertheless, has been given a big boost by Mr. Stevenson's latest proposals.

No matter what the outcome of the Presidential election in the United States next month, even if Mr. Stevenson gets 27,000,000 votes as he did last time and Mr. Eisenhower gets 30,000,000—the Communist regime in Moscow will be able to point to a divided America. The argument would be made by Soviet Russia's propagandists that there were 27,000,000 persons who voted to ban H-bomb tests and to back up the Democratic nominee's position as against that of the man who had won the election. If, indeed, Mr. Stevenson wins, the Soviet propagandists will hail it joyously as a victory for their position of the banning of H-bomb tests.

This sort of division, which can be exploited abroad, is exactly what "bipartisanship" in foreign policy was supposed to prevent. But Mr. Stevenson today is not alone in making H-bomb tests an issue. He is backed up by several Democratic senators, including Sen. Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, who is chairman of the House-Senate Joint Committee on Atomic Energy. The Democrats on this committee made quite a fuss a few months ago claiming that they were not being given enough data by the Atomic Energy Commission. But nobody supposed then that the chairman of the committee, when possessed of important data on H-bomb tests, would appear on a nation-wide television network to back up the nominee of a political party and divulge information obtained in this bipartisan committee—notably, some of the facts about America's system for detection of tests conducted by other countries. These facts had never before been so precisely expressed by anybody connected with the United States government.

Reds Are Happy
Thus, "bipartisanship" has gone out of the window and the government of Communist Russia is happy. Her diplomats now can fish openly in the troubled waters of an American political campaign. Moscow does not need any Communist party in the United States to espouse her cause on H-bomb tests, as "The Daily Worker" of New York city has been doing constantly for many months. Several Democratic leaders now are doing all the espousing necessary to mislead millions of voters into believing that, if American stops H-bomb tests, there is some magic way to make Russia really do likewise. All this in the face of many violations by Soviet Russia of hundreds of agreements signed in the past by Moscow. But this time the breaking of an agreement could be costly to the security of the United States.

Shields Warren, former chairman of the committee on the pathological effects of atomic radiation of the National Academy of Sciences, says that "to permits us to fall behind the Russians is disastrous; to wait for them to catch up to us is stupid."

But Adlai Stevenson has his own set of scientists mostly from the "Left wing," who tell him what to say. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

One afternoon in Geneva during President Eisenhower's contest with the Russians, the telephone rang at that dump where I was being run over by successive waves of Belgians, Germans and Scandinavians, the old Broadway comedian of Olsen and Johnson, calling from Caux up the lake. I think I mentioned this at the time, but there have been further developments concerning Ole's son-in-law, Bill Lear, a fellow who manufactures electronic stuff for aviation and other purposes.

Lear married Ole's beautiful daughter and on the day I mentioned the pair of them had just landed in Geneva to establish their home. Ole, himself, is hipped on moral re-armament, a love-one-another religion which has its, so to speak, vatican, at Caux and so this typical American ham, as jealous as any ham ever was over billing, sock-lanes, laughs and applause, begged me to go up the mountain and watch him carry the spear in the rear rank of the Roman soldiers, proving that he was absolutely overboard for this deal.

Ole wanted me to hole up in the colony and get needled with their stuff, promising in a vague way that once I got off the ground I would flap around on invisible wings in love with everybody and impervious to worry, woe and even hangover because those Jews don't mess with that stuff. They don't have to. Their state of mind is something like the tingling Euphoria that comes after the ninth martini and they had just taken their big show on the road, clear out to India and the Philippines in a fleet of big air force crates lent them by a special deal with the Pentagon.

Now the troop had come to earth in Geneva and they were giving a performance at Caux which seemed hardly necessary because nobody there needed conversion.

Well, this day, Ole brought his daughter and her husband to my dump and Lear was a very personable fellow, but I thought probably just another nut with a black box that can steer a flying machine from Moline, Ill., to 1213 North Mulberry street, Nagasaki. And it turns out he is a black-box fellow, but with quite a dividend left over. Because this was the man who loaded Ole's daughter into his Cessna and flew this summer and flew to Moscow, with a few stops in between for gasoline and visas. This was the first and thus far is the only private ship to fly through the iron curtain and Lear got some bad publicity insinuating that he was trying to sell the Russians equipment which is on our embargo.

There were intimations also that General Nat Twining, commanding our Air Force, who then was in Moscow inspecting their stuff, was sore at Lear for flying-catching all over the place during his big scene.

All this seems to be untrue and unfair to Lear and after he returned he got out a glossy brochure about himself which shows that if he hadn't been a black-box man he could have been a wonderful reporter because this trip was original, unique and highly successful and he flew his own job all the way including a half-hour of nip-ups over Moscow for the entertainment of their courtesies. He depicts their courtesies in joyous terms. Lear probably was born brainy because his pedigree records no education beyond the usual thin spread of smatter in the Chicago public schools and yet he can make electrical motors half the size of an egg.

I was surprised to learn the number and variety of American devotees of M. R. A. in Switzerland and I remember that there was a small fuss about them over the assignment of those Air Force planes and their crews to take a religious exploit on tour under rather loose auspices of the State Department. However, M. R. A. had more than 20 Congressmen backing their application and the important point is that these people dreamed up the idea, wrote, cast, rehearsed and produced the show complete with scenery and stuff and took it on this long tour without a challenge until it was all over.

They called the show "Vanishing Island" and I was told it was the worst thing since "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

5,200 Customers Visit Woolworth's

A total of 5,200 customers patronized the new F. W. Woolworth Company store, 311-315 Wall street on opening day Thursday, it was announced today by Andrew Kozak, manager.

Mr. Kozak said public response to the store opening was "very wonderful."

The new building with its 20,000 square feet of sales floors is completely air conditioned and provides "complete self service for faster service," Mr. Kozak said.

The store features new food departments, modern up-to-date bakery department and many other innovations.

Speeder Fined In City Court

One of two speeders arrested early today was fined $20 in city court, and a man arrested on a public intoxication charge after an accident at Hurley and Washington avenues yesterday forfeited $10 bail.

George Seyler, 49, of RD. Saugerties, who was arrested on East Chester street at 1:55 a. m., today by Officers Gilbert Gray and Frank Monte paid the fine on a speeding charge.

Fred M. Kluth, 23, of Shandaken, who was arrested by the same officers on Broadway near Downs street at 2:36 a. m. on a speeding charge, pleaded not guilty and the case was put over until Tuesday. Attorney Thomas L. Brown, of Phoenicia, appeared for him and Bernard A. Feeney Jr. represented the district attorney's office.

Earl R. Walker, 48, of 205 34th street, Union City, N. J., who was arrested on the public intoxication charge after the accident at 10:55 a. m., yesterday, forfeited bail through failure to appear before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

Walker was listed as owner of a car, driven by John Linn, 49, RD. 4, Box 195, Hurley, which was turning from Washington avenue into Hurley avenue when it was in collision with a truck, owned by Richard Peak, of Peakville, N. Y., and driven by Warner Preston Burdick, 27, of East Branch. The truck was headed northeast on Hurley avenue, the report said. Officers Gerard McCloskey and George Dougherty investigated.

Two Fires Checked In City Last Night

Director of Adult Education Reginald Russell today announced the sessions would start next week with one session of classes being held each week.

The Medical Aid program under CD sponsorship will hold sessions from 7:45 to 9:45 p. m. on Wednesdays, beginning next Wednesday.

Oil painting classes will meet Monday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Home decorating and sewing classes will be Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. The magistrates' class, which is already in session, will also meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m., there will be registration for Youth Leadership class.

There was a large registration for the Driver Education course, but this class will not be started until about January.

Since the first sessions will be held next week, registrations may still be made next week on the opening day of the courses and in the majority of cases these applications will be accepted.

MVBHasSpeakers Available on New Insurance Laws

Organizations looking for a speaker to tell the story of New York State's important new compulsory automobile liability insurance law were invited today to call on the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Every motor vehicle owner will be affected by a new law—the Motor Vehicle Financial Security Act. Registration plates for 1957 may be obtained only in cases where the owner submits a Certificate of Insurance (Form FS-1), or certain other security, at the time of applying for registration and plates.

Service clubs and other organizations wanting to know more about the new law may obtain a speaker for one of their meetings by writing to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, Commissioner Joseph P. Kelly, 504 Central avenue, Albany.

Urges Bomb Tests

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 19 (AP)—The nation's atomic chief said today hydrogen bomb tests must be continued not only to assure new weapons but to provide data needed for civilian survival under enemy attack. Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), in a speech prepared for a joint U. S.-Canada Civil Defense Committee meeting, made no mention of Adlai Stevenson's proposal that this country take the lead in seeking an end to H-bomb tests.

Three Die in Crash

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—A navy plane carrying advance units of this year's south polar expedition crashed on the Antarctic ice shelf yesterday, killing three men and injuring five others, three critically. The navy here said six other planes landed safely after the 2,250-mile flight from New Zealand to McMurdo Sound.

Price Correction

The price of U. S. choice or packer's top brands center chuck of beef advertised by the UPA Markets in last night's paper should have been 43 cents per pound instead of 39 cents per pound.

Gas Depot . . .

Henry Scheffer, 50, operator of the depot, was filling the small tanks—cylinders about 16 inches wide and four feet long—from a large tank truck when a leak apparently developed.

"The area was filled with escaping gas," Cole said. "In some manner it was ignited. The flow kept increasing. Then one of the small tanks blew up and that set off the others."

Hears Five Blasts

Mayor Dave H. Miller said he heard five distinct explosions. "Any one of them would have been enough to blow up a house," Miller said. "They threw gas all over those houses."

Miller said a woman and three children were found lying on the ground where a home had been "blown over them."

Firemen were at the scene before the blast and fire, having been summoned when a leak reportedly occurred. The flames burned fiercely for about an hour before they were brought under control by Herrin firemen and firemen from several nearby towns.

Blown to Pieces

"The explosions threw flames all over the place," Miller said. "The blasts literally blew some of the houses to pieces."

The injured included Mrs. Imajean Keller, 29, mother of Charlotte Jarvis by an earlier marriage and of Robert Lee Keller.

Charlotte's twin sister, Sharon, and another sister, Susan Jarvis, 7, and their grandmother, Mrs. Gladys McGee, were injured.

The Williams' 7-month-old son, Randy, and Kerley's wife, Elizabeth, 62, and their son, Carl, 20, also were hospitalized.

Police said Scheffer was unhurt but suffering from shock.

Jordan Warns

Mordecai R. Kidron, was expected to reply briefly before the 11-nation council adjourned to await the return next week of Israel's chief delegate, Abba Eban. Eban is in Jerusalem for consultations on the current border tension between Israel and Jordan.

Lists Aggression

Jordan has charged that Israel committed "acts of aggression" violating the 1949 Palestine armistice in attacks Sept. 25-26 around Husan and Oct. 11 on Kalkilyeh, Soufin, Hable and Nabi Ilias—all Jordanian villages. UN observers reported 39 Jordanians killed in the first raid. They counted 48 Jordanian dead and Israel reported 18 Israelis dead on the second.

Israel countered by accusing Jordan of "persistent violations" of the armistice agreement and of the cease-fire that UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arranged on his trip to the Middle East last April. Israel said her attacks were justified as retaliation for the killing of 37 Israelis along the Jordan border since the cease-fire April 26.

Sailors Surrender

Two U. S. sailors, Harrie E. McCurry, 19, of Anniston, Ala., and Henry A. Pfarr, of Baltimore, Md., gave themselves up to local police last night as being absent without leave. They were held pending arrival of navy officials.

RVA Will Meet

The monthly meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post, Regular Veterans Association, will be held Thursday, Oct. 25, at 8 p. m. at the home of George W. Nichols, commander, in Bloomington.

ARE YOU READY FOR THE NEW LAW?

Many details must be absolutely correct under the new New York financial security law before you drive into 1957. Are YOU ready? Got your FS-1, for instance—and is it right? My clients' FS-1s (insurance certificates) will be issued from my office (not a "home" or "district" office miles away)—I'll work with my policyholders to make sure they're right. That's local agency service—you deal with a man instead of the mails! I'd like to tell you about the new law. Drop by and pick up a free explanatory booklet on the new law. Call today—no obligation!

With Nine Awards
For School Paper

Dame Rumor, student publication of Kingston High School, received nine awards at the 19th annual Empire State Press Association Conference held at Syracuse last weekend.

The high school paper received a plaque, presented by the Syracuse Herald-Journal, for the best news story of the year, which was written by John Kuhlmann, a staff reporter, who graduated in June. The award was accepted by John Snyder, editor-in-chief of Dame Rumor.

The prize-winning story concerned the proposed IBM electronics course.

First in Topography

The publication also was awarded first place in topography in competition with more than 200 other New York state school papers, and third in editorial content.

A second-place certificate was presented the paper for its special eight-page Christmas edition of 1955, and James Flynn received a third place award for his cartoons.

Honorable mention certificates were presented to Arthur

Moshos and Seymour Semilof for column writing; Fred Wadnola for photography; Robert Jackson for editorial writing, and Fred Weber for cartooning.

Attended Sessions

The editors attended sectional meetings conducted by the Syracuse University School of Journalism on sports, news, features, editorials, and column writing. Other sessions were devoted to interviewing and photography.

Miss Agnes Scott Smith, faculty advisor, and John Snyder were members of a panel group at the conference.

The social program included a banquet and dance last Friday evening at the Hotel Syracuse and the Saturday afternoon football game between Syracuse and the University of West Virginia.

Others attending the conference were Robert Carl Fisher, Kathi Haggerty, and Honora Bradley.

Fish Out of Water

Walters, Okla. (AP)—The old-timers here swear the drought is so bad the fish are trying to get caught to get out of the hot and drying streams. Game Ranger Woody Wilson says the streams are so low that fish are dying from lack of oxygen and also scalding to death.

Riding Club Sponsors
Junior Day Events

Woodstock, Oct. 18—The second junior riding day of the fall season sponsored by Woodstock Riding Club's junior activities committee, will be held Sunday at the Ohayo Mountain ring, starting at 10 a. m.

The program of events includes:

Opening drill and salute of the flag, all riders participating; Fitting and Showmanship (English and Western) horses to be shown in hand with bridle, judged on grooming, performance and manner of showing; Jumping (English) judged on performance, 4 jumps starting at 2 feet; Gretna-Green Race (timed event) (English and Western), riders race in pairs, holding hands, from one end of ring to the other, after which one dismounts and signs both names in a register and then both race back to start; Pony Class (English and Western) judged 60 per cent on suitability and manners and 40 per cent on conformation; Pleasure Horse (English and Western) judged on suitability for purpose.

Walk, jog, lope, canter (lopes), dismount and back, with special attention to biting; Pole Bending (Western) timed event, contestants weave through four poles; Equitation (English and Western) judged on performance of rider; 7A—Western saddle, walk, jog, lope, dismount, and fast stop; 7B—flat saddle, walk, trot, canter, dismount, and change mounts; 7C—Hunter seat, walk, trot, canter, and four jumps at 2 and one-half feet; musical chairs (English and Western); obedience class, (English and Western) elimination upon breaking gait or wrong leads; sportsmanship march, all riders participate; award of trophy.

The trophy is a sterling silver plate (eight inches in diameter engraved which will be presented to the rider who, in the opinion of the judges, exhibits the best care and condition of his horse and tack during the day. It was donated by the Woodstock Garage. Two more trophies will be awarded for the Western and English blue ribbon winners in the Equitation class, donated by H. E. Landis, Jr.

Registered contestants will be given an opportunity to work with the judges in the ring during classes 2, 3, 5, 6 and 8. Those who don't ride in these particular classes may wish to apply for this judging to the ring clerk. If necessary, applicants will be selected by drawing lots.

Judges for the Western division are: Herbert Teller and Peter Teller; English, Mrs. Paul Le Paige, Mrs. Andrew J. Snyder, Ring stewards are Charles S. Roach and Richard Haberstroh, and Charles Riley is parade leader. Serving on the ring crew are John Patterson and Carl Altevogt. George Hard is announcer and J. C. van Rijn, ring clerk.

The junior riding day will be held rain or shine. Arrangements have been made for participants to bring in their horses the previous day and camp overnight on the grounds of the club. There will be a campfire at night. Edward Donahue of Woodstock Riding Club will chaperone the party. Those participating who are not members of the Woodstock Riding Club, who wish to camp, must show their introduction certificates to Mr. Donahue, but retain it for registration with the ring-clerk in the morning.

A refreshment stand will be provided on the grounds serving sandwiches, frankfurters, hot coffee, cold drinks, and cakes at a nominal charge. Everyone is invited to patronize the stand as much of the food is donated to the club by its members, and proceeds are used toward paying for expenses connected with holding this event.

In order to promote good horsemanship, the judges are holding themselves available, after each class, to answer questions from contestants concerning the reasons judged.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Mary Orser, between 8 a. m. and 12 noon and 1 and 5 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Four Nights for God
Program Is Scheduled

Woodstock, Oct. 18—The laymen of the churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish will take part in a conference-wide program called "Four Nights for God." Sunday, Laymen of the churches will be trained in the techniques of representing the church. They will go in teams of two to visit those persons who should be contacted in the name of the church.

As a distinct part of the program, the Rev. Philip Hammond Jr., of Great Barrington, Mass., has been assigned to work with the Rev. Garnett M. Wilder on the project. The Rev. Mr. Hammond will preach in all the churches Sunday.

Sunday evening, a youth rally will be held in Shady Methodist Church. All the youths are invited, as well as the young in spirit at 7:30.

Village Notes

Woodstock, Oct. 18—Dezso and Elvira Sziget have left Woodstock for Hopewell, Va., where they will visit their son, Eugene and family until November 1. Later they will go to their apartment at Miami Beach, Fla., for the winter.

E. Sturtevant Gardner will fly to Honolulu Friday. She plans stops at New Orleans and Los Angeles and expects to remain in Hawaii for six months. Her home has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Weir.

Mrs. Sylvia Dordick, continuity director of WKNY, Kingston, has inaugurated a new children's program Saturday mornings at 9:15 over WKNY, called "Saturday With Sylvia." This program will include songs, stories, puzzles and personal appearances of the children in the area.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arndt returned from Portland, Ore. Wednesday after spending four and a half weeks there. Mr. Arndt was engaged in the decoration of the Matson Liner "Mariposa." The motif of the ship is in old Pacific Islands wood. Mr. Arndt had to simulate the wood finishes on cast aluminum, because of the fire regulations imposed on these vessels. In about six weeks Mr. Arndt will return to Portland to do the decorations on the sister ship.

The WSCS of Wittenberg Methodist Church will hold its annual turkey dinner Saturday, Nov. 3, starting at 5:30 p. m. in the church hall.

Appeals for Pardon

Jerusalem, Oct. 19 (AP)—An American woman sentenced to a year in prison on charges she spied for Syria has appealed for a pardon to Israeli President Izhak Ben-Zvi, her attorney said today. Max Kritzman, attorney for 29-year-old Mary Frances Hagan, had previously announced he would not appeal her conviction last week by a Jerusalem District Court but would ask instead for executive clemency.

Wild Pigs
A herd of swine was among the food supplies of Hernando De Soto when he landed at Florida in 1539. Many escaped, however, during the expedition's travels through trackless forests and swamps. The wild razor-back pigs found in many south-eastern states are believed to be descendants of this herd.

Political Orator—He moved straight toward his goal. He looked neither to the right nor to the left, but pressed forward, moved by a definite purpose. Neither friends nor foe could delay him nor turn him from his course, and all who crossed his path did so at their own peril. You all know whom I'm talking about don't you?
Voice From Crowd—Yeah, a truck driver.

Two prominent physicians who had been called in consultation retired to another room to discuss the sick one's condition. In the closet of that room a small boy had been concealed by the patient's directions, to listen.

Patient (eagerly after physicians had gone)—Well, Jimmy, what did they say?
Boy—I couldn't tell you that because they used such big words I couldn't understand 'em. All I remember was that one doctor says to the other, 'Well, we'll soon find out at the autopsy.'

"Thoughtful of the bus company, isn't it?"

A drunk finally finds the key-hole and enters into the house, where he stumbles around looking for lights.
Wife—That you, Henry?
No answer, then a big crash of glass.
Wife—Henry, what in the world are you doing?
Henry—Teaching your goldfish not to bark at me.

Smart Birds

Roanoke, Va. (P) — A "wolf-whistle" around the Children's Zoo on Mill Mountain here doesn't mean a thing, girls. The zoo has recently acquired two new mynah birds. The birds are supposed to talk. So far, however, all they've done is let out a low whistle when people—particularly pretty girls—walk by.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Oct. 19—As far as crop production is concerned, American farmers have done an outstanding job in recent years, despite acreage controls and in some sections unfavorable growing conditions. Although I do not look for a record total outturn this year, it should not be far under the relatively high level of 1955.

Wheat did somewhat better this season than last, but the total indicated crop was 16% under the 1945-1954 average of 1,148,289,000 bushels. However, we can get along well enough for a while without billion-bushel wheat crops, since the bread grain at present constitutes one of the major surplus farm commodities. The U. S. carryover last July 1 topped one billion bushels, but much of it was in government hands. The loan program will again siphon a substantial portion of the current crop out of commercial channels. This fact is a favorable sign.

Most of the other summer-harvest crops did fairly well, with oats perhaps the major exception. Although the outturn was the smallest since 1945, total supplies should suffice. Ample supplies of barley and flaxseed will be available for the 1956-1957 season. The barley crop was the fourth, and the flaxseed crop the second, largest of record. Farmers this year produced the third largest hay crop ever, but spot supplies in drought-stricken areas may be tight from time to time. I expect grain and hay prices to average higher over the longer term.

Outlook for Corn and Soybeans
There is no question as to the adequacy of corn for the current season. The above-average 1956 crop, plus the large carryover from previous years, spells record total supplies. Since the government owns or controls more than 1,000,000,000 bushels, and since I forecast that a sizable portion of the 1956 crop will enter the loan, free stocks need not prove burdensome. While moderate price weakness is likely during heavy shipments this fall, the market should average higher as the season advances.

The U. S. 1956 soybean crop is by far the largest on record, and will exceed total requirements by a wide margin. Just how much downward pressure these heavy supplies will exert on prices remains to be seen. The test should come soon, with marketings at their seasonal peak. The government loan, which averages $2.15 a bushel on the farm, could buttress prices. Growers and processors have discussed the problem of heavy soybean supplies with the government, and further government moves may be made to help prices.

Cotton and Other Fall Crops

The 1956 U. S. cotton crop, now being harvested, is not burdensome, since indications are that domestic consumption and exports will exceed it. Although the carryover last August 1 was huge—around 14,500,000 bales—a large part of this reserve will in government hands and will not now glut commercial channels. The good present demand, plus the influence of the CCC loan, could strengthen cotton prices.

The indicated dry bean crop is not far from average and should suffice for needs. The rice outturn is somewhat above average, but need not prove burdensome. I now forecast that prices of both these items will work higher over the longer term. The late potato crop is on the heavy side, but the government's diversion program should prevent any drastic price decline this fall.

A Glance Ahead

The course of farm prices is vital not only to farmers themselves, but to the nation. The trend has been moderately downward for several months, but the drop from mid-August to mid-September was only 0.5%. While further slight near-term weakness is possible, the future is uncertain.

Concerning the problem of farm surpluses, acreage controls and the Soil Bank program could prove quite helpful for awhile; but I fear we have not yet found the ultimate solution. I do not know how farmers feel about the coming Presidential election, but I hope they honor the dictates of their conscience and keep the welfare of the country as a whole clearly in mind.

Admiral Denies Red Paper Charge Of Brainwashing

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 19 (AP)—"Hogwash," said the admiral. He was referring to an article in the newspaper Soviet Fleet which said U. S. Naval Academy midshipmen are being politically brainwashed.

"That's a word (hogwash) I don't normally use," said Rear Adm. William R. Smedberg 888, superintendent of the naval academy, "but I can't think of a more descriptive term for a statement so completely ridiculous."

The Moscow-published article said midshipmen must study political geography aimed at "substantiation of United States claims to world supremacy." The course, it added, is based on "the writings of imperialist geopoliticians."

The academy's foreign policy lectures, said Smedberg, are a "hash of slanderous fabrications" about the Soviet Union and other Communist countries. It described the academy's graduates as "a privileged class which stands apart from both the naval enlisted men and the whole of the American people."

Smedberg said he would not "dignify" the article by making a point-by-point rebuttal. But he said the "privileged class" charge "falls apart" in light of the number of enlisted men who are appointed to the academy from the United States fleet. "Our present midshipman commander and his immediate predecessor," Smedberg added, "are former sailors drawn from the fleet."

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office)

By JIMMY HATLO

New Law Governs Auto Insurance

Fifth in Series

Toughest penalties in a tough new State Motor Vehicle Financial Security Act are reserved for those who drive or permit someone else to drive an uninsured motor vehicle on and after next February 1.

For those who put an uninsured vehicle on the road, the law sets up a one-year revocation of registration plates and driver licenses—plus a fine of not less than $100 and a possible jail sentence.

To begin with, you will, of course, have to submit a Certificate of Insurance (Form FS-1) or other financial security along with your application form in order to get your 1957 registration certificate and number plates.

Thereafter, unless you keep the required insurance of at least "ten-twenty-and-five" always in force, you are in effect ruled off the road by this law which is designed to assure that the innocent injured will be able to collect damages for losses resulting from the negligence of other highway users.

Commissioner Must Act

The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles will get evidence from various sources when an uninsured car is operated on the highway, including conviction reports from the courts and reports from the police following roadblocks and accidents.

When the Commissioner does receive such evidence—that the owner has operated or permitted someone else to operate a motor vehicle without insurance—he is required by law to take several forceful steps.

He must revoke the registration plates of the vehicle and the driver license of the owner.

He must revoke the driver license of any driver who operates someone else's car knowing it is not covered by insurance—unless such an operator has an owner's policy of his own with "drive-other-car" privileges protecting him while driving that vehicle or an operator's policy of liability insurance.

The Commissioner is prevented by law from issuing new registration plates or a new driver license until at least one year has passed in cases where an uninsured car is operated on the highway.

In addition, the motor vehicle which was operated without insurance cannot be registered for one year in any other name if the Commissioner has "reasonable grounds to believe that such registration will have the effect of defeating the purpose" of the law.

The owner who permits the operation of an uninsured vehicle loses his license plates and driver license for one year, and is guilty of a misdemeanor, even if the driver of the car had liability insurance coverage of his own.

Complications Listed

If an uninsured car is involved in an accident, not only are registration plates and driver license revoked for one year, but the vehicle cannot be registered again nor the driver licensed even after that until the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles has received satisfactory evidence of the following:

- 1.—That no action based on the accident has been started within a year of the date of the accident, or
- 2.—That the owner or operator has a release from each injured or damaged party involved in the accident, or
- 3.—That there is no unsatisfied judgment against the owner

The American Legion Auxiliary of the Town of Marbletown Post No. 1512 have completed plans for a Virginia baked ham supper to be served to the public Saturday, Oct. 27 beginning at 5:30 at the Stone Ridge Reformed Church basement. This is an annual supper and money raised at this time is used to further the work for disabled veterans and their families and other community projects of the Auxiliary, according to President Mrs. Robert Christiana.

The High Falls Firemen held their annual banquet Saturday evening in the firehall. The banquet was served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the fire company.

Raymond Williams, acting fire chief has announced that Sunday afternoon a fire drill will be carried out. Two blasts on the fire siren will be sounded to summon firemen for the drill.

The Teen-Age Club is helping with a raga-muffin parade beginning at William Brooks' on the Mohonk road and continuing to the firehall early in the evening of Halloween.

Upon reaching the firehall, prizes will be given for special costumes and refreshments will be served. Containers have been placed in several of the business places to receive contributions toward financing the Halloween party.

To create increased attendance at monthly firemen's meetings, the Company is giving an attendance prize each meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brenna of Long Beach, Cal. are visiting their daughter and family, the DeWitt Hasbroucks.

'Apple Cart' Opens

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Sometimes old plays come up to charm new audiences on Broadway, and such a one did last night when Maurice Evans brought Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart" back to the Plymouth Theatre with Signe Hasso in the chief feminine role. It is a play of distinction with a distinguished cast. It has little motivation because it was written by a playwright who often is given to long speeches. Fully one-third of his dialogue speeches in "The Apple Cart" are not idle conversation between two or three normal people. They are monologues by a single actor or actress who is merely expressing the commentary opinions of Shaw.

Questions -- Answers

Q—What price is set by coin collectors on the 1804 silver dollar?

A—The coin, if genuine, is conservatively valued at about $10,000. There are only about five known copies of the 1804 silver dollar in existence.

Q—What city in Pennsylvania celebrates Red Rose Rent Day?

A—West Grove. The original deed for this land granted to William Penn, grandson of the founder of Pennsylvania, in 1731 stipulated a payment each year of "one red rose."

Q—What led to the discovery of the planet Pluto?

A—The behavior of another planet, Uranus. The astronomer, Lowell, found through mathematics that there must be an unknown planet that was causing Uranus to move irregularly.

Will Dedicate Home Of Girl Scout Founder

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 19 (AP)—The birthplace of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of the Girl Scouts, will be dedicated today.

Mrs. Roy F. Layton, national Girl Scout president, planned to unlock the door to the 132-year-old home at 2 p. m. (EST) in the presence of more than 1,000 scouts and scout leaders.

Mrs. Low established the Girl Scout organization in 1912 when she was 52.

The Girl Scouts bought the building in 1953 following reports it was to be torn down. It was restored at a cost of $160,000. Contributions from scouts throughout the country helped pay for it.

Y-WIVES MAKE PLAQUES—For their first project, members of Y-Wives will participate in the Round-the-World Christmas Fair, sponsored by the YWCA on Nov. 17. Shown holding one of the plaques that will be on display at the fair are (l-r) Mrs. Donald Hulsair and Mrs. William Kaznowski. The plaques are made of driftwood, dried flowers, pine cones and acorns. Inviting His Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: My 17-year-old daughter has been dating a young man twice a week for the past four months. His family live in this same town but I have never met them. My daughter would like me to invite them to dinner some Sunday. Would such an invitation be proper, or might they get the impression that I am trying to rush things between the young people?

Answer: It depends upon their manner toward your daughter. If they are punctilious, it would be better not to—if they are very friendly, it would be all right.

Civic Association Makes Fall Plans

Halcyon Park Civic Association held its first meeting of the season recently, elected a new board of officers and formulated plans for the year.

Of particular interest to the group was the discussion led by outgoing president, Frank Smith, regarding current fire protection in the area, school and town problems.

The association has made broad plans to take an active part in its town's affairs and to keep its citizenry informed of latest developments.

Newest members welcomed into the organization were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Ragione.

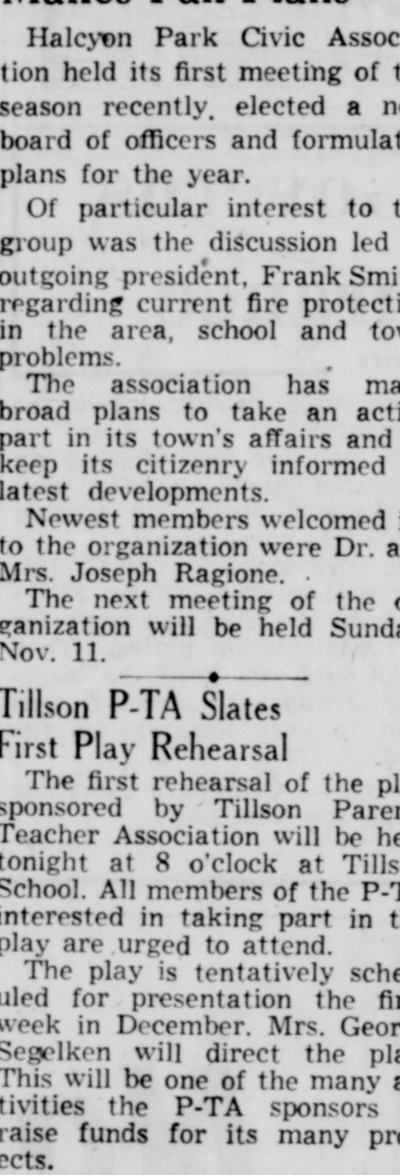

The next meeting of the organization will be held Sunday, Nov. 11.

Tilston P-TA Slates First Play Rehearsal

The first rehearsal of the play sponsored by Tilston Parent-Teacher Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Tilston School. All members of the P-TA interested in taking part in the play are urged to attend.

The play is tentatively scheduled for presentation the first week in December. Mrs. George Segelken will direct the play. This will be one of the many activities the P-TA sponsors to raise funds for its many projects.

IN-LAW COMPLICATIONS

"I live with my parents-in-law. We have a bedroom and a small sitting room. When we have guests, we usually receive them in the living room on the first floor since our sitting room upstairs is very small. The other evening, friends of ours whom we hadn't seen in a long time stopped in to see us. We sat talking with them in the living room. My mother-in-law was upstairs at the time and I did not call her down. She seemed put out because I did not ask her to come down and meet our guests. She would have been perfectly welcome had she come down but I did not think it was necessary to extend a special invitation. I would very much like to know if I was wrong not to ask her to come down?"

I do not think you can be considered wrong, since they were friends of yours. If they had been as much friends of hers as yours, that would have been another story.

Warming Trend Is Due for Weekend

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today, to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday:

Eastern New York—Temperatures the next 5 days, Friday evening through Wednesday, will average 2 to 5 degrees above normal. Cool at the beginning, followed by a warming trend over the weekend. Cooler about Tuesday. Rainfall will be light and will average less than one-quarter inch, likely occurring about Sunday night or Monday.

Western New York—A warm period is indicated with temperatures averaging 8 or 9 degrees above normal. Fair and warmer over the weekend. Risk of scattered showers Monday, cooler with showers Tuesday or Wednesday. One-half inch or less of rain is expected.

Temperature normals—Normal highest daytime temperatures in upstate New York at this time of year are in the middle and upper 50s and normal overnight lows are in the mid and upper 30s.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING—Women of the Port Ewen Methodist Church are shown making Christmas gifts in preparation for their coming gift bazaar and ice cream social which will be held Saturday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 p. m. A program of entertainment has also been planned. (Freeman photo)

Hounds Search For Lost Child

Selkirk, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Scores of volunteer firemen, civilians and troopers, aided by two bloodhounds, searched a wooded area today for 11-year-old Claudia Gretser.

The girl disappeared yesterday while she and her mother, Mrs. Edith Gretser, were visiting relatives here. Troopers said the girl apparently became lost.

Search centered on woods between Selkirk, which is about eight miles south of Albany, and the Hudson river to the east.

The girl and her mother were to have left today for Japan, where the father, a colonel, is stationed.

Troopers said Selkirk residents had reported seeing the girl at several spots near their home yesterday afternoon.

Prof. Hosler spoke at the concluding dinner of a two-day technical and scientific forum on hard coal, which is most heavily used for domestic and commercial heating in the Northeastern United States.

Most of the discussions dealt with the two-century anthracite reserves now calculated by the U. S. Bureau of Mines and such developments in heating as fully automatic, thermostat-controlled anthracite coal and ash handling equipment. Prof. Hosler told the conferees that anthracite, which "is especially sensitive to weather," should anticipate "roughly a ten per cent increase in heating requirements in the Northeastern U. S."

2 Firms Accused

Herrin is about 110 miles southwest of St. Louis.

Police Chief Roy Cole said Sales, Inc., sell primarily through salesmen who give free dinners. The commission said these agents have disparaged other cookery by claiming that, since aluminum is a porous metal, particles of food cooked in aluminum are retained in these pores and become poisonous. The FTC complaint stated that this is not so and that food prepared in these utensils will not cause cancer or any other disease.

The companies were given 30 days in which to file answer. A hearing was set for Dec. 18 in Chicago.

Maroon Meets Mont Pleasant in Clash of Unbeaten Teams

Capacity Crowd Expected Tonight At Dietz Stadium Red Raiders Rule Slight Favorites

Unbeaten Kingston High will be the underdog for the first time this season when it plays undefeated Mont Pleasant of Schenectady in the No. 1 football clash of the season Friday night at Dietz Memorial Stadium.

Both teams have waded through four straight opponents to date and Mont Pleasant, coached by Larry Mulvaney, is riding on a 15-game winning streak.

The powerful Red Raiders edged White Plains, a traditional New York state powerhouse, 19-18; Albany High, 42-6; Amsterdam, 53-0; and Newburgh Free Academy, 38-0.

Coach Bill Burke's Maroons reached their seasonal peak last Saturday flattening Poughkeepsie High, 39-6, after downing Christian Brothers Academy of Albany, 26-18; New York Military Academy, 20-13; and Port Jervis, 6-0.

Record Crowd Expected
A jam-packed stadium crowd is expected to watch as Kingston braces for what appears to be the biggest obstacle to Coach Bill Burke's first undefeated untied season in 11 years.

How much of an underdog the Maroon should be is sheer speculation. One thing is certain, regardless of the pre-game prognostications, the Maroons are up for their top performance of the season.

The contest shapes up as a battle between passing skill and running power. The Raiders rely heavily on the forward pass, while Kingston has a potent ground attack which should make for interesting watching. A furious struggle between top-flight lines is also in prospect. Mont Pleasant hasn't been scored on in its last two starts. The Maroon has yielded an average of only one touchdown a game in the last three outings.

Lineup Stays Intact
Coach Bill Burke has his squad groomed for the rugged test. He isn't contemplating any serious changes in his lineup, of course. When a team is rolling, it's not good policy to break up a winning combination.

In the line will be ends Bill Chase and Marv Engle, tackles Fran Janacek and Lee Kias, guards Marv Shaub and George Stephano and center and captain Pete Blanchan. The backfield will be Bob Smith and Larry Johnson at halfbacks, Bill Cragan at fullback and Joe White at quarterback.

Hobie Armstrong is the No. 1 backfield reserve and will play either fullback or halfback. Big Gene Nagele is ready to handle one of the tackles do some of the extra-point kicking after sitting out the Poughkeepsie game. Burke has a bench full of other reserves spearheaded by tackles Connie Vendetti and Bob Bjaelker, guard Mike Wood, end Dick Frodsham, center Frank Sammons and quarterback Jim Cullum.

Poirier Leads MP
Jim Poirier runs the T and handles the passing for Mont Pleasant. A veteran performer, Poirier is the best quarterback the Maroons will face this season.

Rounding out the backfield are halfbacks Virgil Griffin, Rob Ogilvie and fullback Dick Koretnicki.

Making up the line are experienced operatives Gary Trout and Jim Kaylor, ends, Bill Mastrianni and Lou Mauro, tackles, Bob Kuder and Carmen Pantalone, guards and center Jim Saxby.

After the Mont Pleasant duel, the Maroons have three games left on the schedule—all on the road. They play Middletown and Beacon in that order before tackling Newburgh Thanksgiving Day.

The lineups:
KHS LT—(26) Chase Trout LG—(35) Janacek .. Mastrianni C—(43) Shaub Kuder RT—(31) Stephano . Pantalone RE—(42) Kias Mauro RB—(36) Engle Kaylor QB—(30) White Poirier LH—(34) Johnson Griffin RH—(32) Smith Ogilvie FB—(27) Cragan .. Koretnicki

Kingston reserves: Armstrong (38), Nagele (44), Bjaelker (41), T. Cragan (23), Cullum (21), Dietz (39), Frodsham (36), Keiser (36), Letus (33), Le Fevre (27), McDonough (24), Welwood (24), Reilly (30), Sammons (28), Switz (22), Uhl (45), Vendetti (40), Wood (29).

Shoemaker First To Hit Two Million

Camden, N. J., Oct. 19 (AP)—Willie Shoemaker is the first jockey in racing history to pilot horses to two million dollars in purse money in one year.

"Silent Shoe" set the mark yesterday at Garden State Park by riding Ada L. Rice's Beattillion to victory in the sixth race, worth $3,245 to the winner. The winning ride put Shoemaker's 1956 purse winnings at $2,001,163.

Shoemaker set the previous money winning mark of $1,876,760 in 1954. He also won the honor in 1951 and 1953. His total purse earnings for seven years in the saddle is $11,190,240.

Jap Pitchers Fan 16 Dodgers; Win Game, 5-4

Tokyo, Oct. 19 (AP)—Aided by the 16-strikeout pitching of two ace hurlers, the Tokyo Yomiuri Giants beat the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-4 today in the opener of Brooklyn's 20-game Japan exhibition baseball tour.

A pair of eighth inning solo home runs by Kazuhiko Sakazaki and Tetsuji Kawakami off Don Bessent put the Giants into the lead for keeps.

Takumi Otomo, a submarine ball pitcher who beat the New York Giants here two years ago, struck out Roy Campanella, Don Demeter and Gino Cimoli in order in the top of the ninth for the victory.

Otomo whiffed 10 Dodgers in all after coming in the fourth. His predecessor, Sho Horiuchi, who was tagged for home runs by Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges, fanned six.

An estimated 15,000—less than half the capacity of Korakuen Stadium—watched the Giants and Dodgers play in gray, overcast weather.

Tokyo took a 2-0 lead in the first inning with three of their seven hits.

Crack Homers
Four of the hits were home runs—two by Kawakami and one each by Hawaiian Nisei Andy Miyamoto and Sakazaki.

Hawaiian Nisei Wally Yonamine opened the game with a single for the Giants. Miyamoto, also from Hawaii, homered to give Tokyo a 2-0 lead. The Giants added a run in the third on Kawakami's first four-bagger.

The sluggish Dodgers, apparently tired from their long trans-Pacific flight and late arrival yesterday, scored all their four runs in the fourth.

Pee-wee Reese singled, Jackie Robinson homered, Gil Hodges also smacked one out of the park. Cimoli later hit a triple to score Campanella, who had singled. It was the Dodgers' only up-to-par performance of the afternoon.

In their second exhibition game, the Dodgers Saturday take on an All-Star team from Japan's powerful Central League. The Yomiuri Giants won the Central League pennant but—like Brooklyn—faded in their "world" series won by the Fukuoka Lions of the Pacific League.

Canadiens Off To Slow Start

(By The Associated Press)
The National Hockey League season is still young, but already the experts are wondering about the Montreal Canadiens.

After easily winning the league title and the Stanley Cup playoffs last season, the well-balanced Montreal club with two high scoring lines was expected to break away in front of the field.

But look at the standings today. The Canadiens are no better than tied for fourth after playing a 1-1 tie with the winless Chicago Black Hawks on the Montreal ice last night. In their two other starts, the champs split a home-and-home series with the Boston Bruins.

Meantime, the Detroit Red Wings are in full flight although they had to settle for a 3-3 tie at home with the Toronto Maple Leafs last night. They've won their three other games for a 3-point lead over the New York Rangers and Leafs.

Kingston Harriers Cop Triangular Meet

Leads Maroons Dave Beehler

Kingston High's harriers captured the first four places to defeat Ontario Central and Saugerties High in a triangular cross country meet yesterday at the Dietz Stadium track.

Dave Beehler, flashing his best form for the first time this season, finished first in a good clocking of 11 minutes, 54 seconds, a worthy feat on a wind swept course.

The Maroons finished with 22 points to 35 for Ontario and 65 for Saugerties.

Ontario placed five straight finishers from the fifth through the ninth slot. Becker, who was tenth, was the first Saugerties runner across the line.

The order of finish:

Gallagher Nixes Cubs' Coast Offer

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP)—James T. Gallagher, who resigned as business manager of the Chicago Cubs last week, today declined the presidency of the Cubs' Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

The offer was made by Phil K. Wrigley, who owns the Cubs and the Angels.

WHAT IS A GOOD BARBER SHOP?

Kingston, N. Y., Oct. 19—Most all you men will agree that a good barber shop is one whose primary purpose is to cut hair to the satisfaction of the customer. Then too, its barbers must be neat, polite and good conversationalists if the customer feels like talking.

Mr. Customer must also have confidence enough to send his young son to this same shop with the knowledge that he will be well taken care of. In other words, a good barbershop can be relied on to satisfy all customer whims besides giving a good haircut. Next time you need a haircut—try us! See if our characteristics add up to your definition of a good barber shop.

Pros Outlaw Electronics In Football

Philadelphia, Oct. 19 (AP)—The National Football League is going back to the old-fashioned style of having quarterbacks either think for themselves or receive instructions by messengers on foot.

Commissioner Bert Bell announced yesterday that electronic devices used by some of the league teams for communication between the coaches on the sidelines and the quarterback have been outlawed for the balance of the 1956 season.

Bell said the action was taken in a telephone poll of the NFL teams and there wasn't one dissenting voice or even the semblance of an argument on the question.

Even Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns, who first made space cadets of his quarterbacks, was happy to go along with the ban, Bell said.

Sturdivant and Harshman Best Hitting Moundsmen

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Tom Sturdivant of the New York Yankees and Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox, both converted infielders, were the leading hitters among major league pitchers in 1956. Sturdivant had the highest batting average, .313, while Harshman walloped the most home runs, six, and drove in the most runs, 19.

Actually, Sturdivant, who played at second base and third base in the Yankee farm system until 1952, was the only big league hurler to hit .300. He had 20 hits in 64 at bats while collecting five runs batted in and scoring five times. Tom had one-for-three in pitching the Yanks to a 6-2 victory over the Dodgers in the recent World Series.

Harshman had only 12 safeties and a .169 batting mark. But his home run total fell just three shy of the major league record for pitchers. Wes Ferrell of Cleveland hit nine in 1931.

Wilson Among Leaders

In addition to the homers, Harshman, a former first baseman with the New York Giants and seven minor league clubs, had one double and scored eight runs for the White Sox.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press also revealed today that Jim Wilson, who played for the Orioles and White Sox, was runnerup to Sturdivant among the hurlers who batted a minimum of 50 times. Wilson collected 23 hits in 77 at bats for a .299 mark.

Twaalfskill Caddies Honor Bruhn, Conlin and O'Reilly

Thirty-three Twaalfskill Club caddies assembled at the club to join with officials in honoring the caddie golf champions of 1956, at the annual dinner last night.

Guest of honor was Mike Bruhn, who defeated Richie Diers in a sensational upset for the Class A title.

Alex Gerlack, the club professional, served as toastmaster. Speakers included George Schneider, chairman of the Greens committee and Charles J. Tiano, Freeman sports editor.

Club president, Harold F. King, awarded the prizes. Jim Oulton, caddie master, led the group singing.

Award for Bruhn
Thomas Goodman, former golf architect and now caretaker of Montrose Cemetery, awarded Mike Bruhn a special medal in recognition of his Class A title.

Class C—champion, Charlie O'Reilly; runnerup, Glen Fitzgerald.

Beaten Four—first, Bill Parmelee; second, Tom Oulton.

Harlem Globetrotters Meet Philly Sphas Here November 20

Have New Comic, Leon Hillard And Five Acts

Abe Saperstein's 30th anniversary edition of the fabulous Harlem Globetrotters, the "Black Magicians of Basketball" will play the Philadelphia Sphas at the municipal auditorium on Tuesday, Nov. 20.

The game will mark the third straight year in which the globe-girdling troupe has played in Kingston. Popular prices will prevail for the first time, the promoters said.

Saperstein will introduce a sensational new comic in Meadowlark Lemon, a 6-foot-3 successor to Goose Tatum and Robert Hill.

Hilliard Returns

Supporting Meadowlark will be a veteran cast that features Leon Hilliard, who is dubbed as the "world's greatest dribbler"; Charlie Hoxie, former Niagara University star; Andy Johnson, Clarence Wilson, Carl Green, Woody Saunders and Roman Turman.

Ermer Robinson is assistant coach of the squad.

The Trotters will feature their usual outstanding halftime floor show. The five topnotch vaudeville acts now touring with the Trotters include Ali Baba, slight of hand expert; Lee Marx and Billie, jugglers; Dick Alber, beautiful Japanese feminine tightrope artist; and The Palermos, Argentine juggling wizards.

Information on ticket reservations will be announced in the next few days.

Syracuse Rated Two TDs Choice Over Army Squad

By BOB POWELL
The Associated Press

With powerful Jimmy Brown in the driver's seat, Syracuse University's football machine is rated a two-touchdown favorite over Army in tomorrow's upstate attraction at Archbold Stadium.

Colgate and Cornell, the other upstate Big Three members, are on the short end in the predictions.

Colgate, which ranks as one of the nation's most traveling teams (the Raiders play seven of nine games on the road), journeys to Princeton, N. J., to meet the unbeaten Tigers while Cornell tangles with Yale in New Haven, Conn.

Tomorrow's spectacular at Archbold Stadium will be highlighted by a parade by the West Point cadet corps of 1,200. It will be the corps' first upstate appearance in pre-game ceremonies.

Brown Is the Man

But it may take all 1,200 to stop the running and passing efforts of Brown, who last week missed "back of the week" honors on his performance against West Virginia.

Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's stellar halfback, edged Brown in the Associated Press poll.

Matching Brown's speed, if not his power-running, at the other Syracuse halfback slot will be Jim Ridlon, who figured in both Orange touchdowns in his victory over the Cadets last fall.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder may start Ferd Kuczala at quarterback in place of Chuck Zimmerman. Al Cann may replace Ed Coffin at fullback.

Bob Kysky, the Point's 1956 quarterbacking experiment, will direct the Black Knight's attack.

Kysky, stricken by injury during his first two varsity seasons as a halfback, is rated an effective running quarterback and a competent passer. Defensively, the speedy back, is highly rated.

Giambra 3-1 Pick Over Gil Turner

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Crowd-pleasing Gil Turner, who has made almost as many television appearances as Rin Tin Tin, fights in front of the cameras again tonight as 3-1 underdog against streaking Joe Giambra.

This could be the last video shot in a long time for the 26-year-old Turner unless he finds his way back on the winning path. The muscular Philadelphia dropped his last three fights and his fistic rating has dropped.

Gil has had some 30 TV shots and usually pleased the fans with his windmill attack. Lately the 153-pounder has shown a tendency to tire about the eighth round. The onetime welterweight and middleweight contender may be nearing the end of the trail although his 50-13-1 record is a good one.

Giambra, a handsome, dark-haired, 25-year-old boxer-puncher, has won four straight in a drive to get back with the middleweight elite and earn a shot at the title.

In the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 there was a property loss of $350 million dollars.

Oklahoma Eleven Appears Safe From Possible Upheaval

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

The sudden, unexplainable ups and downs of college football already have been vividly displayed this fall, and the season now has reached the stage where coaches of top-ranked teams are muttering "don't let it happen to me."

"It," in this case, can mean either a horrible slump by a good team or an inspired performance by a steady loser. And it could happen this weekend to almost any of the leaders, from Michigan State to Miami.

Oklahoma is excepted. It's a bit beyond credibility to imagine the top-ranked Sooners, needing only one victory to set a new major college winning record of 34 straight, blowing the decision to a free-scoring Kansas team which has won only one of four games. The Jayhawks, who have scored 77 points in their last three games, might cross Oklahoma's goal for the first time, but its unlikely their porous defense can balk the higher-scoring Sooners.

But Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty is battling over-confidence as his second-rated Spartans prepare to face Notre Dame.

"They'll be ready. When we tangle with Notre Dame, records mean nothing," Daugherty says.

Injury-riddled Notre Dame will be the underdog in a game for the first time since 1952 and that may be just enough to fire up a team that has lost two of its first three games.

Miami, ranked 11th in the latest Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters, opens the action tonight against Georgia, which won its first game last week. An upset appears possible but unlikely. Other Friday night games include George Washington vs. VMI—a pair of Southern Conference title contenders—and Denver vs. Colorado College.

The top ten teams, except Baylor, all are listed for major Saturday tussles and there are chances that a couple will come out as losers.

Auburn Challenges Tech
Georgia Tech (No. 3) takes on rugged Auburn. Texas Christian (4) meets tied but unbeaten Texas A. and M. in a game that could be a deciding factor in the Southwest Conference race. Ohio State (5) meets Penn State, a team that could stand as an example of football form fluctuation.

Two weeks ago Penn State lost to Army. Last Saturday, the Nittany Lions overwhelmed a presumably good Holy Cross team 43-0 and Army took a 48-14 whacking from Michigan. It's possible that the circuit could be completed by the Pennsylvanians downing Ohio's power-running Buckeyes.

On down the line it's Mississippi vs. Tulane, winner over Navy last week; Tennessee vs. battered Alabama, Michigan vs. Northwestern, the team that blanked Minnesota's hopes last week, and Southern California vs. Conference leader Washington.

That's far from being a full list of Saturday's major games. The east is billing Syracuse-Army and Princeton-Colgate as important tests of power. Also listed are Yale-Cornell, Columbia-Harvard and Pennsylvania-Brown in the Ivy League plus Dartmouth-Holy Cross, Navy-Cincinnati, Lehigh-Virginia, Rutgers-Boston College and Boston U.-Villanova.

Colorado Risks Lead

Colorado risks its Big Seven lead and Orange Bowl hopes against determined Iowa State. Other midwest attractions include Wisconsin-Purdue, Iowa-Hawaii, Nebraska-Indiana, Kansas State-Missouri, Dayton-North Carolina State, and Marquette-College of the Pacific.

In the south Duke vs. Pittsburgh meet in Norfolk's Oyster Bowl charity game. Vanderbilt-Florida and Kentucky-Louisiana State are major Southeastern Conference tussles and it's North Carolina-Maryland in an interesting Atlantic Coast Conference game. Western Virginia bids for the South Western Conference lead against William and Mary.

The winner of the Oklahoma A & M-Houston game may go all the way in the Missouri Valley Conference and the same thing holds in the Wyoming-Utah scrap for the Skyline Conference lead. On the Pacific Coast UCLA, co-leader with Washington, faces California and favored Stanford meets Oregon.

Out on a Limb? Maybe

Hoople Picks Maroon To Beat Mont Pleasant

EGAD! The unexpected warm weather which prevailed in recent days has your super seer sailing on a cloud. In my lengthy travels I have been forewarned to expect a momentous upset in high school ranks.

The premonition is, not, to abandon the handwagon of coach Bill Burke and his stout-hearted band of football warriors. More timid souls may clamor to the side of the mighty Mont Pleasant ensemble, but your peerless prognosticator is made of sterner stuff. He is sticking with the Maroons to topple the Schenectady hotshots from the ranks of the unbeaten in a bitterly and closely contested classic.

Before we reveal anymore secrets, let us examine our season's record—gulp! By hitting four out of five last weekend we boosted our record a trifle to 12 won, three lost and 2 tied for 300. Not bad, but we'd better quit bragging because we have beaten the ears off our great electronic brain.

Now back to our crystal ball: Port Jervis over Newburgh. The Red Raiders rebounded nicely last week and won by the exact score (13-7) your old nos-tradamus said they would. On the other hand, NFA made us eat our words as it thumped Nott Terrace. Port is due to hurt someone badly before the season ends and we think the victim will be the Goldbacks in the only DUSO game on the weekend slate.

Saugerties Again
Saugerties in a breeze over Schoharie. Nothing short of an earthquake is going to stop the Sawyers from going unbeaten. Schoharie is weak and should be the Sawyers' fifth victim.

Arlington by a whisker over Highland. The game shapes up as a battle between two of the top backs in the area, Johnny Gersch and Charley Lawrence. Arlington has shaken off an early season slump while the Highlanders are plagued with eligibility problems.

Ontario to take Hunter-Tannersville. The Indians are healthy after a short layoff and shouldn't encounter much trouble against their feeble rival. Peekskill over Middletown. The Middies have their weakest team in several years and won't present much of a puzzle to the Westchester county crew.

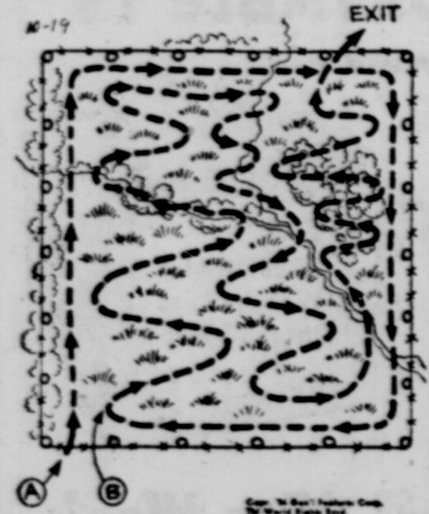

Now for an added feature—a weekly best bet.
The "sure thing" is Beacon over Roosevelt. FDR has shown little while Beacon is the class of DCSL. Victory should come easy for Beacon which is shooting for its second straight title. The only things left now are the scores:

Kingston 20, Mont Pleasant 14
Saugerties 33, Schoharie 6
Arlington 19, Highland 13
Port Jervis 20, Newburgh 12
Ontario 26, Hunter-Tannersville 13
Peekskill 13, Middletown 6
Beacon 39, Roosevelt 13

Football results have been so affected by the oratorical winds—erated by the various candidates that your humble correspondent has been forced to adopt a new system for college games this weekend. But, of course, I never reveal my system, although zillions of readers have protested.

The forecast:
Rutgers 20, Boston College 13
Syracuse 14, Army 7
Colgate 14, Princeton 7
Harvard 20, Columbia 7
Yale 27, Cornell 6

Scotch Doubles For Palsy Fund

A "Scotch Doubles" bowling tournament will be held on Saturday evening, October 20 at the Chalet in Rosendale for the benefit of the Cerebral Palsy Clinic in Kingston.

Prizes will be awarded to top scorers and all bowlers who would like to participate are urged to contact Mrs. Arthur Mulligan at Rosendale 4401. Spectators are also invited to attend the unusual "Scotch Doubles" match.

Entertainment will be provided by the Barbershop Quartet, from the Mid-Hudson Chapter of Kingston.

All proceeds will be donated to the C.P. fund previously collected in the Township of Rosendale, for which Mrs. Sylvester Smith of Creek Locks and Earl Mack of Whiteport are co-chairmen.

Football Giants Open at Stadium

The New York football Giants open their 32nd season in New York Sunday, their first in their new home, Yankee Stadium.

Kickoff time against the Pittsburgh Steelers is 2:05. A crowd of 40,000 is expected. The game will be broadcast over WINS and will be available by telecast in this area.

More than 10,000 box and reserved seats will go on sale at the stadium at 11 a. m. Also on sale will be 10,000 bleacher seats and 3,000 children's seats in the bleachers. Many of the bleacher seats are at midfield.

The Giants, who walloped the world champion Cleveland Browns, 21-9, last Sunday, again will start with Don Heinrich at quarterback; Frank Gifford and Alex Webster, halfbacks; and Mel Triplett at fullback.

Freeze Spaceman

San Diego, Calif. (AP)—Dr. George Gamow, Russian-born physician said it may be necessary to freeze space pilots so their conscious lives would be suspended during long trips. He told the San Diego chapter of the American Rocket Society that it would take 10 years at the speed of light for a space ship to reach the nearest star. A frozen pilot would have no feeling of the length of time. He would be thawed out by instruments before arrival. Gamow said such freezing could be possible, perhaps in not too many years.

BOWLING SCORES

Ross Ellis of the Sportsmen's Major flirted with bowling immortality and rocked a 671 series to lead city trundlers last night.

The United Pharmacy leadoff opened his series with a split on alleys 7 and 8 at the Bowldrome, then fired 11 strikes in a row for a 278 solo. He followed with 154 and 239. The 11 strikes in a row earns him an American Bowling Congress citation.

Reynolds Plumbing, with slams of 916, 914 and 970 set a new team series record of 2800.

It's always uncomfortable when the opponents tramp a good trick. But it's still possible to make the best of a bad situation.

West opened the ace of hearts and continued with the queen of hearts at the second trick. The average declarer would have played the king of hearts from the dummy, thus losing the game contract. East would return a club, after ruffing dummy's king of hearts, and the defenders would thus get two high hearts, a heart ruff, and the king of clubs, defeating the contract.

When the declarer was Charles J. Solomon of Philadelphia no such misfortune overtook him. He recognized the situation and refused to play the king of hearts from the dummy at the second trick.

This simple play was effective. West had to lead a third heart, since any shift would enable declarer to draw trumps. East ruffed the king of hearts and returned a club, but it was now too late. Charley put up the ace of clubs, ruffed a heart with one of dummy's high trumps, and drew trumps. He was then able to lead his last heart, now established, and discard the losing club from the dummy. The rest was easy.

Presley Gives Black
Eye as Souvenir

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 19 (AP)—A service station manager sported a black eye today, souvenir of a brisk fist fight with Elvis (The Pelvis) Presley, the teen-agers' rock 'n' roll idol.

The fistcuffs flared yesterday when station manager Ed Hopper became irate because a crowd drawn by Presley and his $10,000 motor car was blocking business at the gas pumps.

Presley, 21, Hopper, 42, and a late comer to the fight, station attendant Aubrey Brown, 21, were free in $52 bonds, all charged with assault and battery and disorderly conduct.

Assist. Police Chief Bruns McCarroll said officers already on the scene broke up the fight and reported that Hopper was trying to unlimber a small pocket knife at the time.

Presley, home for a few days from his rock 'n' roll tours, said the trouble started after he drove his glossy, white Continental Mark II into a downtown station and asked Hopper to check the gas tank for leaks.

Grange League Bids
Farmers Help Selves

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The general manager of the Co-operative Grange League Federation Exchange says that one way for farmers to help themselves—instead of seeking government help—is to use the services provided by the GLF.

C. N. Silcox of Ithaca told stockholders yesterday that "both political parties are promising the world to farmers." But, he added, "the government has nothing to give you and me except what it takes from you and me."

Silcox said in his report at the organization's annual meeting that GLF now has 120,000 farmers and that it handles about 35 per cent of the total volume of farm supplies purchased by farmers in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

J. C. Corwith of Water Mill, L. I., board president, said the cooperative is shooting for wholesale sales of $176,200,000 in the fiscal year that started July 1, compared to sales of $165,000,000 in the previous fiscal year.

Police Show Mercy

Seminole, Okla. (AP)—Seminole's police department decided not to hold its annual fish fry this year, and the city's merchants were overjoyed. Chief Lester Bush said the fish fry, which takes the place of the annual policeman's ball, was passed to give the merchants a rest from purchasing tickets.

Briefly Told

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—It wasn't dirty money, but it wound up at the cleaner's.

Mrs. Mary McAninch, sorting bundles at Walker's Laundry, found two paper-wrapped packages containing $1,652. The money was returned to the owner.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Parents who refuse to support teachers in disciplinary problems are among causes of the teacher shortage, a convention of Seventh-Day Adventist school teachers was told.

G. M. Mathews, associate secretary of the Adventist general conference, said: "Parents can make or break a teacher."

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—A cool and rainy summer gave New York bees a hard time.

They turned out only 32 pounds of honey per colony, compared to last year's rate of 50 pounds, the state agriculture department said. Total honey production in the state was 6,112,000 pounds, 39 per cent under 1955.

Glens Falls, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Republicans who vex their opponents by referring to the "Democrat" party have a new recruit—a Democrat.

A sign here says "Warren County Democrat Headquarters." County Chairman D. Frank Sullivan said the choice of lettering was left to a party member, whom he did not identify. The sign painter said there was no "ic" on the copy he got. The sign is still up.

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—J. & L. Rogers Co. has announced the signing of a 1½-million dollar contract for a paper machine with the Black-Clawson Co. of Watertown, N. Y.

David Wollin, Rogers president, said yesterday the machine has a daily capacity of 135 tons. Wollin said it would be used in a 10-million-dollar newsprint mill to be constructed at Silt, Colo.

Engineering design of the plant has been completed by Alvin H. Johnson & Co. Wollin said construction might be started before the end of this year, weather permitting, or next spring at the latest.

The Rogers firm operates another mill in Ausable Forks, N. Y.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—Howard A. Shiebler of Albany has resigned effective Oct. 31 as coordinator of public relations for the State Education Department, it was announced today.

There was no mention of a successor. Shiebler has been drawing $12,500 a year in the job.

Out of Hospital

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19 (AP)—A 33-year-old mother, whose infant daughter was kidnapped and murdered last month, was released from a state mental hospital yesterday. Mrs. Eleanor Ruoto asked to be admitted to the hospital two weeks ago but asked to be released four days later. She had to stay 10 days after that because of hospital rules, which require 10 days notice before voluntary patients can leave.

Foreign students from 132 different nations are studying in U. S. colleges and universities.

State AA Asks About
Gas Tax With Bond

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The New York State Automobile Assn. has asked Gov. Averell Harriman if a gas tax increase will accompany passage of a proposed half billion dollar highway bond issue.

In a letter to Harriman made public yesterday, the association asked: "Is there any truth to newspaper stories that an agreement has been reached in Albany to increase the gas tax if the bond issue is passed?

The bond issue is on the ballot in next month's elections.

The letter continued: "If such an increase is contemplated, the need for which is yet to be demonstrated, will you propose a constitutional amendment to assure the revenue for highways?"

The club is supporting the bond issue but is opposed to new gasoline taxes not earmarked for highways. The club accused Harriman of dodging similar questions in a letter sent to him Oct. 5.

Mostly Fair in U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

There were a few rainy areas but fair weather prevailed in most of the nation today. The Atlantic coastal storm that brought heavy rain and strong winds from Maine to New Jersey this week moved out to sea yesterday. However, rain and showers continued during the night in the Carolinas. Clear skies were in prospect for the northeastern area. Welcome rains which fell in drouth areas of Texas were expected to spread northward into southern Kansas and southwestern Missouri during the day. Scattered showers also were forecast for the northern half of the Rockies, and more rain was the outlook for western Oregon and Washington.

Children Urged Not To Play in Leaves

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today asked public cooperation in preventing mishaps or fires in accumulated leaves on city streets.

Children should refrain from playing in leaves piled along curbs and motorists should be cautious in driving in any area where leaves are accumulated.

The practice of children concealing themselves in leaves, the mayor said, is a dangerous one, and he asked all to cooperate in discouraging it. The practice of starting fires in leaves, is also dangerous, he noted, and all should make sure that they are not responsible for a fire either intentionally or accidentally.

Jury Locked Up

New York, Oct. 19 (P)—A federal judge last night locked up until this morning the jury seeking to reach a verdict in the tax evasion trial of Acy Lennon, a secretary to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.). Judge Archie O. Dawson took action after a panel of seven men and five women failed to agree after deliberating 10 hours and 15 minutes yesterday. Lennon, 53, is charged with evading payment of $4,210 in federal income taxes from 1949 through 1954.

Double Daring Thieves

Guthrie, Okla. (P)—Police have no doubt that the burglars who cracked the safe of a supermarket here were daring. They did their work in the front window of the store where anyone walking by could see them. Steve Douglas, the store manager, said the thieves actually were double-daring. They braved two vials of tear gas attached to the safe, that went off. The burglars stole several hundred dollars.

Prisma Holds Election

As the result of elections held earlier this month Karen Byrne will serve as the 1956-1957 president of Prisma with Carol Lawrence, vice-president and Patricia Van Deusen, secretary. Other candidates for these offices included Mini Basch, Linda Merritt, Judy Petro, Francine Turck and Karen Trowbridge. Both the president and secretary are members of the senior class, while the vice-president is a junior.

Electronics Course Expands

The program in electronics started last February under the sponsorship of IBM is being continued this fall with a course in Industrial Electronics under the supervision of Marvin Craft, instructor in trade electricity.

Although, when fully developed, the course will be offered as a three year program of study, this special course is open to seniors who are interested in this type of work. To qualify students will have to pursue four years of both mathematics and physics. The course will also prepare young men interested in attending engineering schools.

Student Council Elects

At a special school election held two weeks ago, Lee Kias was chosen president of Student Council to succeed Ted Peck who was chosen for this office last spring but has left Kingston High School to attend a private preparatory school. Other officers serving this year are vice-president, Bruce Miller; secretary, Betsy Milliken and treasurer, Patricia Van Kleek.

Seniors Name Officers

After several weeks of balloting the seniors selected Tony Grimaldi as their president while Mini Basch will serve as vice-president. Kaari Ilves is secretary with Arthur Beck, class treasurer.

Other candidates for the various class offices included Richard Bunting, Kathi Haggerty, Richard Di Donna, Judy Petro, Sylvia Scheri, Vivian Van Vorst, Mary Ellen Decker, Carol Wood, Patricia Van Kleek, Janet Van Kleek and Lynda Marz.

Plan Drive for $10,000

Setting its goal at $10,000 Prisma is rapidly completing its plans for the annual magazine drive which will start October 25 with a special assembly. As in past years the campaign is being arranged through the Curtis Publishing Company.

The usual worthwhile money prizes will be awarded to the high salesmen while certificates entitling the holders to purchase merchandise at certain designated stores will be awarded to others who show alert salesmanship ability.

Proceeds from the magazine sales is used by the club for scholarships and to send local

Teetsels Awarded $7,000 in Suit For Injuries

Charlotte P. Teetsel was awarded $5,000 for injuries which she received in an automobile accident at Fair and St. James street when a car which she was operating was in collision with a car of Greff Allen. Her husband Robert E. Teetsel was awarded $2,000 for medical expenses and loss of services.

The action, brought in Supreme court, was presented to the jury only to determine the amount of the damages since liability was admitted by the defendant.

Robert A. MacKinnon and A. J. Cook Jr., appeared for plaintiff and Albert E. Schober with Charles Gaffney of counsel appeared for defendant.

An action for personal injuries was taken up for trial. Colville White, Poughkeepsie, seeks damages from the New York Central Railroad Company. An employee of the railroad, plaintiff suffered an arm injury when he was struck by a pole. Roy L. Featherstone appears for plaintiff and Gerald E. Dwyer for defendant.

Long Strike Ends

Alpena, Mich., Oct. 19 (P)—A new contract has been signed by the Huron Portland Cement Co. and the Licensed Tugmen's Protective Assn., thus ending a strike that began Sept. 21. The company and the union issued a joint statement last night which said the contract, good until Jan. 31, 1959, "provides for improved wages, vacations and other conditions of employment." There were no details and neither side would comment beyond the statement.
